

Helping Families Help Themselves

Food Box Community Outreach Program

The economy is still down, but food prices are going up. To help beat this economic recession, we are pleased to present the Jolin Food Box outreach program, created to help budget conscious families.

Simply fill out the order form that we provide, or go to our website and place your monthly orders online.

This is a recession buster!
For $38, you receive a variety of frozen foods in a box with a retail value of approximately $100.
